J. Regardless of how many sequences are accepted or how many credits are earned, the maximum number of credits an exhibitor can claim in each Division for any given calendar year is 8 acceptance and 4 title credits.

IV. EXHIBITION ACCEPTANCE LIMITS FOR STAR RATINGS.

(For entry and acceptance specifications, see the current Exhibition Standards. The following is an Abstract of these specifications and is included here for the benefit of Divisional Star Ratings Chairpersons. These title and acceptance credits may be applied to all levels of star ratings.)

A. In CPID, Photo Travel, and 3D Exhibitions, up to 4 acceptances per section may be applied to star ratings. Each accepted image receives 1 title and 1 acceptance.

B. In Photojournalism Exhibitions both prints or projected images may be entered as sequences by placing multiple images in (or on) a single mount or file. Single images in (or on) a single mount can also be entered. Up to 4 mounts may be entered in each section recognized. Each accepted mount or file, whether a sequence or a single image, receives 1 title credit and 1 acceptance credit.

- C. In Nature Division Exhibitions, both prints or projected images may be entered as a sequence in exhibitions offering this option. A sequence may be composed of from 2 to 10 images. Each accepted sequence receives 1 title and 2 acceptance credits. For images not entered in sequences, each accepted image receives 1 title credit and 1 acceptance credit. Each entry may be composed of 4 single images giving a maximum of 4 titles and 4 acceptances, 2 single images and 1 sequence giving a maximum of 3 titles and 4 acceptances, or 2 sequences giving a maximum of 2 titles and 4 acceptances. The titles and acceptances from prints and projected images in a single exhibition may be combined toward a single star.
- D. In Electronic Imaging Exhibitions, 4 titles and 4 acceptances from up to 2 sections per class in a single exhibition may be applied to a star. Up to 8 title and 8 acceptance credits from a single exhibition may be applied to a star rating from each section, color or monochrome, held in one exhibition (for a total of 16 acceptance credits and 16 title credits.) Titles and acceptances from color images will be combined with titles and acceptances from monochrome images toward a single Electronic Imaging star.
- E. The Pictorial Print Division awards separate star ratings in two sections: Color and Monochrome, and two classes within each section, Class A (large) and Class B (small). In Pictorial Print Exhibitions, 4 titles and 4 acceptances from each section per class may be applied toward a star in the class. Titles and acceptances from one class of prints cannot be combined with titles and acceptances from another class of prints to be applied toward a single star.

V. TITLE & ACCEPTANCE CREDITS

The following applies only to Star Awards granted by Divisions that combine acceptances of one media or class with acceptances of another media or class toward a single star.

- A. In exhibitions approved by Divisions which accept two or more media (prints, slides, and/or digital) each image produced from any of the accepted media must have the same title in all media as the original. Only one acceptance credit per title from a specified section of the exhibition may be applied toward a star rating. (NOTE: This stipulation of one acceptance credit per title from an exhibition does not apply to Photojournalism Division stars if one of the acceptance credits is earned by the titled image having been printed in the exhibition's catalog prior to January 1, 2009). A title accepted in a section of an exhibition may never again be accepted in the same section or other sections of the exhibition regardless of media.
- B. In exhibitions recognized by Divisions which accept both slides and/or digital, a color slide produced from a digital image or a digital image produced from a color slide must have the same title as the original image and only one acceptance credit per title from a specified exhibition may be applied toward a star rating. This titling restriction does not prohibit modifying and subsequently re-titling an image as long as the new image produced is dramatically different when it is compared to the original image and a reasonable person would consider the new image to be a different picture.
- C. Each image must have a unique title. It may not be re-titled for entry in any other PSA recognized exhibition.

- D. Acceptance credits earned in an exhibition may be applied toward star awards only in the Division which granted recognition for that exhibition.

VI. DIVISIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES.

- A. Each Division Star Rating Chairman will maintain a complete set of catalogs from PSA recognized Exhibitions for the last ten years.
 - 1. It shall be the responsibility of applicants to furnish reasonable proof of acceptances and titles that were made prior to the required period of catalog retention.
 - 2. The Division Star Ratings Chairman will make any final decisions of acceptability of the proof.
