

2011 Club Representatives of the Year

Congratulations Marie Altenburg and Nan Carder, PPSA

Marie Altenburg receiving her award at the 2011 PSA Conference in Colorado Springs.

The 2011 recipient of the Club Representative of the Year award for small clubs is Marie Altenburg, who is the Club Rep for the Pocono Photo Club, which serves Northeast Pennsylvania and Northwest New Jersey. Marie attends the club's board meetings, informs the board of PSA services, sends emails to keep the club informed of PSA activities, and forwards The Projector to the club's Webmaster. She ensures that the PSA Journal is available at every meeting and urges club members to join PSA as individual members. Marie has referred members from both Florida and Pennsylvania where she spends part of her year.

The 2011 recipient of the Club Representative of the Year award for large clubs is Nan Carder, PPSA. She is the Club Rep for the Lancaster Photography Association of Lancaster, California.

Nan presents the PSA Journal at every meeting and has it available for club members to check out from the club lending library. She also announces how the club has done in the PSA interclub competitions, and she is the club coordinator for all PSA interclub competitions. Nan has referred 23 members to PSA and is only two referrals away from her second Membership Star.

PSA 2011 Club Service Award

From Dana Vannoy, FPSA, EPSA

The Cleveland Photographic Society (CPS)

was formed in 1887 and has over 300 members. The CPS received a second Service Award for their unusual and outstanding Community Service Program which focuses on providing quality photographic service at no cost to non-profit organizations in Northeast Ohio. During the 2010-2011 year, volunteers in the community service program grew from 30 to 96. The number of non-profit organizations served increased from 12 to 28 and covered 81 events including the Special Olympics of Northern Ohio and the Rite Aid Cleveland Marathon. Each year the club holds a Community Service night, where organizations send representatives to tell club members about their missions and how they use their photographs. This also helps the society recruit additional volunteers for the work to be done. More information on the CPS can be found on the club's website: www.clevelandphoto.org

The Lancaster Photography Association (LPA)

was formed in 1966 and has over 120 members. The LPA is received a PSA Service Award for their continued photographic support of philanthropic endeavors in their community. Each year the LPA undertakes the coordination of the photography exhibition for the Antelope Valley Fair. Last year it took sixty nine volunteers who donated 2500 hours to fulfill this mission. This past year, the LPA provided a yearlong photographic record of the local Prime Desert Woodland Preserve. The LPA recently partnered with a teen center on it's neighboring Edwards Air Force Base to assist with their photography camp. Members created and lead workshop style hands on programs for the camp. More information on the LPA can be found on the club's website: www.lpaphotography.org

PSA Council 's Challenge Results

From Margaret Sprott

Roz Kleffman, with the help of the Bowie-Crofton Camera Club in Bowie, MD, hosted the PSA Council's Challenge for 2011. Twelve councils submitted 31 entries in three sections – Color Digital, Monochrome Digital, and Prints. This was the first year that slides were not included in the challenge. On June 4, 2011, the three club judges and helpers gathered to conduct the judging. All three judges were PSA members of the Mid-Atlantic Chapter: Robert J. Leonard, FPSA, MPSA; Dick Whitley, APSA, EPSA; and Bill Conway.

Sincere thanks to all of these people, especially Roz Kleffman. There were many excellent images submitted, which gave the judges quite a challenge. The “Best in Show” image was awarded to the color digital image “Attack” by Seppo Nurmi who is a member of The Association of Finnish Camera Clubs.

Roxanne Overton from Boise, ID, ran a very successful Website Contest this year. There were 40 entries in the Small Club Section and 41 in the Large Club Section. Roxanne managed all the entries, questions, and judge selection in a very competent and timely way. She states that her judges “were terrific and did a great job!” A big thank you goes out to Roxanne, Small Club judges Tom Fluharty, Claire Lelli and Les Mulligan, as well as the Large Club judges John Baltz, Dennis Hughes and Frank Richards. Roxanne’s husband Wally did all of the forms and online computing for our judges. In addition, he compiled everything to get the final results. She sent out “report cards” to all of the entrants after the PSA Conference. The judges suggested that the seven different groupings of criteria should be weighted so that the scores would better reflect what is important for a website to be considered “good”. After getting approval for this, they agreed on what the weightings should be. Below are the winning websites. Margaret Sprott would like to thank the entrants from all over the world. The 2011 PSA Web Site Contest Results Slide Show presentation from the Conference can be found on the PSA website: <http://psa-photo.org/clubs-and-councils/psa-member-clubs/club-web-site-contest/>
